Editorial

Dear Researchers,

Panacea Journal of Pharmacy and Pharmaceutical Sciences, an official publication of Panacea Research Library, has now marked its existence being launched during Oct-Dec, 2012. In the current Issue 1, Vol. 1, major emphasis has been given to include the original research work by the researchers, also their review work.

These research and development activities are required to be properly, effectively and continuously disseminated emphatically and usefully to all concerned, for the application and prescription as and when required. This in itself is a gigantic task. With this objective and to contribute in this task in a humble way, and with the help, guidance and patronage of famous experts and stalwarts in the field of pharmacy, the editorial board has immense pleasure to present the international online research journal entitled “Panacea Journal of Pharmacy and Pharmaceutical Sciences”.

In this journal, all efforts have been made to keep it completely research orientated. In fulfilling this aim the wisdom and kind guidance of the reviewers of repute has been sought, for which they have so kindly and willingly obliged.

I am encouraged to see the response of the scientists as continuous inflow of their research work to be published in this journal and assure to all, that I am not going to sit and relax with the sense of complacency having launched it with great success rather my effort will continue to overall improvement of the quality and acceptability of the Panacea Journal of Pharmacy and Pharmaceutical Sciences, also to increase the circulation of this journal to each and every corner of academics in the country.

Honourable Patrons, Reviewers, Authors and Editorial Board members, I am highly obliged and convey most sincere gratitude and kindest regards to them.

With kind regards and expecting your whole hearted support.

With regards,
Prof. Sharrock Brayne, M.S., Ph.D.
